The Honorable
Stansfield Turner
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Turner:

Among my more substantial regrets with the Democratic Administration is that your appointment to the Directorship of the C.I.A. has made me reluctant to request any time with you. I have missed the opportunities to see you and Mrs. Turner after church, at the Kenwood Club or spending time with my parents.

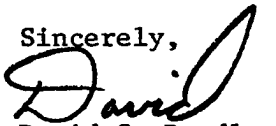

The purpose of this letter, therefore, is to ask if you would be able to put aside enough time for a bicycle ride on the canal or a dinner in Washington. As I have nothing of importance to report and, surely, no urgency in my own schedule, I would be happy for any amount of time now, in the near future, after the Christmas holiday or at whatever time is best for you. I simply would like to put in my request for a definite time now.

In the last three years, I have finished the scholarship year in Manila, started law school at Georgetown University and established a small company of eight young researchers. At this time, I am trying to keep our small business from bankruptcy, maintain a passing GPA at school and provide a minimum number of hours to the Georgetown Law Journal without alienating the entire editorial staff. Night and day I can be reached at the address and telephone number above.

Please give Mrs. Turner my best wishes.

With continuing respect and friendship.

Sincerely,

David G. Bradley
